Ref: Memo to AC/RECD from D/L dated 3 Feb 1956

On 6 February 1956 I discussed the ceiling heights of the warehouses at [REDACTED] of OC-E. He stated that it was general policy to store the Communication Mobile Units outdoors. In the event moth-balling of these units was desired they have in the past run electrically operated dehumidifiers into the interior of the truck and sealed up the truck openings. He was of the opinion that raising the roof on a warehouse was unnecessary due to the above reasons and the fact that the mobile units are designed for outdoor storage and use.
